

Katrina's Friday 13th bliss

FRIDAY the 13th is known as being unlucky for some but we have a feeling that's not going to be the case this Friday.

Paralympian Katrina Webb, OAM, pictured, will be celebrating her wedding anniversary tomorrow.

She will also be a special guest speaker at the Animal Welfare League's Charity Golf Day at the Glenelg golf course.

Katrina, who is a major supporter of the AWL actually considers 13 to be her lucky number.

After all, she married her husband, Eddie Denis, on May 13.

However, while Katrina doesn't consider herself overly superstitious these days, she recalls always putting on her left running shoe first while training and competing in the paralympics.
