PROGRAM ASPECTS

The program has been designed as a series of targeted workshops that ensure that trusted connections are made within the group of participants.

The workshops will be highly interactive and will follow a logical, professional and personal skills based development spectrum.

The participants of the FIT program will establish a foundation to accelerate their career progression. They will be inspired to grow and learn how to manage their mindsets and their wellbeing, in order to drive their performance.

“To love what you do
and feel that it matters,
– how could anything
be more enjoyable?”

PROGRAM ASPECTS

Expert facilitators who will drive positive professional and personal change within each participant;

Fun, experiential learning;

A focus on positive psychology (a science that seeks to identify what makes fit people thrive);

Post the workshop series, each participant is encouraged to present back to their respective organisations on a new initiative that they recommend or their insights and learning from the program.

TESTIMONIAL STATEMENTS

“The FIT for Leadership program was a fantastic well rounded Leadership Development program...It was a great opportunity to meet like females across other industries and the calibre of facilitators was fantastic. The facilitators are personable and friendly and made everyone feel at ease and included.”

- Eileen Schultz, Head of Service Delivery Technology Services

“What I found the most valuable about the FIT for Leadership program was the holistic approach to leadership development. Considering how the resilience and strength of both your mind and body play into your performance, really helped me broaden my own thinking about my work and my attitudes.

The variety of facilitators with different qualities and styles keeps it interesting, and Kate and Katrina created an environment of trust and openness which I think really drove the discussions and interactions in a valuable direction.”

- Andrea Johansen, Senior Manager Employee Communications
